Report of the Town Administrator: The Selectmen have drawn up job descriptions for the Curators and the Historian. Copies are included with the minutes. The primary responsibility of the Curators is "to solicit and accept contributions and donations to the Canaan Historical Museum." Also "to maintain a computerization of the inventory of the museum and to label each object."

The Historian's purpose is preserve, collect, and disseminate local historical knowledge; to foster an interest and appreciation of Town history by the public. Responsibilities include preservation of historic buildings, documents, artifacts; and participation in civic or patriotic observations.

Old Business: Sue Marcoulier called Carol to say she will inform graduates of Canaan College of the exhibit being planned about the Academy of Advanced Sciences and Canaan College with the hope graduates will attend Old Home Days and visit the Museum.

New Business: Donna gave tours and showed the artifacts which pertain to Canaan history to 68 fourth graders observing NH History Day. Leroy Neilly and Richard Vincent gave the children rides down Canaan St in a horse drawn cart.

New donations: The pine blanket chest belonging to Kenneth and Kevin Lary was on display. They also donated a document of the eligible voters in 1842 and had it framed. It was decided to display the document in the Museum as the Town Office does not have the space for it. It will be taken to the library for the winter.

Carolyn suggested we plan some days to continue working on the inventory. Dates will be chosen.
